Jordan has a very rich cultural heritage thanks to the support of the Department of Culture and the Arts, which was founded in 1966 CE. Since then, the department has built up an exciting, ongoing programme of cultural activities related to all the arts: music, visual arts, performing arts and the written word

In 1979 CE, the Royal Society of Fine Arts (RSFA) was established to promote visual arts in

Jordan and other countries in the region. It has links with major art galleries around the world in order to encourage artists from different cultures to learn from each other

The Jordan National Gallery of Fine Arts is one of the most important art museums in the Middle East. The collection includes over 2,000 works of art, including paintings, sculptures, photographs, installations, textiles and ceramics, by more than 800 artists from 59 countries. In 2013 CE, it held Jordan's largest art exhibition called '70 Years of Contemporary Jordanian Art'

Until the 1990s, most Jordanian literature was only available in Arabic. However, thanks to PROTA (the Project of Translation from Arabic), many Jordanian plays, novels, short stories and poems are now translated into English, and people all over the world are able to read and appreciate them.

- 4- The Royal Society of Fine Arts and the National Gallery of Fine Arts.
- 5- Department of Culture and the Arts
- 6- the Project of Translation from Arabic تكرر للاهمية
- 7- Suggested answer: I agree with this statement. If we say that a culture is informed by the ideas and the physical artefacts from its past (as well as its present), we can say that artistic heritage gives us, at the very least, an excellent insight into the social structure of any given people. For instance, nowadays people outside Jordan and the Arab world will have more of an opportunity to understand Jordanian culture now that the PROTA initiative has been set up.

Last year I visited India with some of my friends . The next day , we were invited to a festival called “ Holi “ “ Holi “ is a spring festival of colours . Holi celebrations start with a bonfire on the night before Holi where people gather , sing and dance . The next morning is a free-all carnival of colours , where all participants play , chase and colour each other . That was great and we really enjoyed the experience . Unfortunately , the Holi festival was crowded with so many people . It was very difficult to distinguish your friends from other people as everyone was covered with colours . In addition to that restaurants only served India meals which were hot and expensive .
