Read the text carefully then answer all the questions.

In the countryside in Brazil, many homes haven't got doorbells. So when you visit someone, you must stand outside and clap your hands. If nobody comes to open the door, you can knock, but you can't go inside until it is opened.

If you are waiting to shake the hand of the Queen of England, you have to wait until she puts out her hand first.

Accepting invitations can be very confusing. If you are invited to a dinner party which starts at seven o'clock, what time should you arrive? In Turkey, you should arrive exactly on time. In Argentina, you should arrive up to an hour late as arriving on time is considered impolite!

In Asia, it's considered rude to tap your chopsticks against your bowl. You shouldn't point to someone while holding chopsticks, either.

Even if you're very hungry and you're eating a meal in China, you mustn't finish your food. It's considered rude because it suggests that you are very hungry and that you haven't had enough to eat.

You are allowed to eat noodles noisily in Japan – it shows your host or hostess that you are enjoying your meal!
