- 1) Finding work in a crowded job market can be challenging sometimes, especially for graduates who do not have any work experience. Many employers are looking for people with a proven track record in a particular area of work. However, you need to have a job in order to get experience. Doing an internship is a good way to get around this problem. Internships provide work experience for university students, graduates and people considering career changes. Although they are not usually paid, interns do get many benefits. The most important benefit is considered to be the opportunity to get valuable work experience.

Read the following article carefully and then in your ANSWER BOOKLET answer all the questions that follow. Your answer should be based on the article. (34 points)

TEXT ONE: Most doctors used to be sceptical about the validity of homoeopathy, acupuncture and other forms of complementary medicine. If patients wanted to receive this kind of non-conventional treatment, they used to have to consult a private practitioner who was likely not to have a medical degree. However, in recent years, the perception of this type of treatment has changed. These days, many family doctors study complementary medicine alongside conventional treatments, and many complementary medicine consultants also have medical degrees.

Critics used to say that there was no scientific evidence that non-conventional treatments actually worked, now it is more common for medical experts to recognise that conventional medicine may not always be the only way to treat an ailment.

- 1. There are two pieces of evidence which show that people's perception of complementary medicine has changed over time. Write these pieces of evidence down. (4 points)
- 2. List two forms of non-conventional treatments. (4 points)
- 3. Find a word in the text which means "a system of complementary medicine in which fine needles are inserted in the skin at specific points." (4 points)
- 4. Complementary medicine has gained wide recognition all over the world. Think of this statement and in two lines give your point of view. (6 points)

TEXT TWO: Whether you're selling a new type of toothpaste to a chain of pharmacies, the latest computer software to a school or a new kind of package holiday to a travel agency – you need to know ... How to make a sales pitch.

Don't come away from a sales pitch wishing you had been better prepared. It is essential to know everything about your product. Do you know when it was developed, and where it is produced? You also need to know who the target market is – for example, the age group or income of the people who might buy it. Not only that, you should know all about the competition – that is, similar products on the market. Why is your product superior to others and why does it have better value? In addition, you should know exactly which people you are speaking to, and what their needs are. For example, if they represent a middle-class department store in a humble neighbourhood, be ready to explain why your particular product would suit customers who do not have lots of money. What makes your product perfect for them? Most of all, you need to believe in what you're selling, and the best way to do that is to use it!
