Question Two:

Read the following texts carefully, and then in your ANSWER BOOKLET answer all the questions that follow each one. Your answer should be based on the article.

TEXT A:

Everyone knows that the Internet connects people, but now it does more than that – it connects objects, too. These days, computers often communicate with each other; for example, your TV automatically downloads your favourite TV show, or your ‘sat nav’ system tells you where you are. This is known as the ‘Internet of Things’, and there is a lot more to come.

In just a few years’ time, experts say that billions of machines will be connected to each other and to the Internet. As a consequence, computers will increasingly run our lives for us. For example, your fridge will know when you need more milk and add it to your online shopping list; your windows will close if it is likely to rain; your watch will record your heart rate and email your doctor; and your sofa will tell you when you need to stand up and get some exercise! Many people are excited about the ‘Internet of Things’. For them, a dream is coming true. They say that our lives will be easier and more comfortable.

- 1) The “Internet of Things” means connection between different computers. Write down two examples from the article to show that.
- 2) Quote the sentence which states the impact of connecting machines to each other and to the Internet.
- 3) Some people are excited about the “Internet of Things” for two reasons. Write these two reasons down.
- 4) How the “Internet of Things” help people to keep fit?
- 5) What does the underlined word (it) refer to?
- 6) It is believed that the “Internet of Things “is worrying. Think of this statement and, in two sentences write down your point of view.

Text B

My name is Fatima Musa and I have worked as an interpreter for five years. Many students have emailed me about my work because they want to know what it would be like to do my job. So here is my reply. I have always been fond of languages. My father worked in many different countries when I was young and we usually travelled with him. When we visited a country, I always wanted to learn the language. At school I was very good at English. Therefore, I decided on a career as an interpreter.

My job now involves going to important conferences and seminars around the world. Is it an easy job? Not at all. English is not the same in all English-speaking countries. For example, the English words that are used in India are sometimes different to the words that people use in the UK, the USA or Australia. As well as knowing regional English, you also need to know a lot of specialist language. Some of the words that are used to talk about business, science or law, for example, make it almost a different language!

Unless you have a language degree, you will not be able to become an interpreter. Provided that you have a postgraduate qualification, you will probably get a job as an interpreter quite quickly. If you get an interview for a job, you will need to show that you have good listening skills and a clear speaking voice. You will also need to show that you can think quickly and that you are able to concentrate for long periods of time. If you are successful, it is a secure and rewarding job. You will probably need to travel a lot, but that is not a problem as long as you enjoy visiting other countries.

1. Fatima states many reasons that made her decide to become an interpreter. Write down two of these reasons.
2. There are four skills one should show if he gets an interview for the job of an interpreter. Write these four skills down.
3. Fatima specifies two requirements to become an interpreter. Write them down.
4. Find a word in the text which means "classes on a particular subject, usually given as a form of training".
5. What does the underlined word "him" refer to?
6. It is usual for people to change jobs in their lifetime. Suggest three possible reasons that make people change their jobs.

B. literature spot:

*A stage below, in gay accord
White butterflies danced on the wing
And still the singing skylark soared
And silent sank and soared to sing.*

Hani Gazaz

- 1) Find a word in the above lines which means (in agreement).
- 2) Find an example of alliteration in the above stanza.
