QUESTION TWO: (27 points)

Read the following article carefully and then in your ANSWER BOOKLET answer all the questions that follow. Your answer should be based on the article.

Most doctors used to be sceptical about the validity of homoeopathy, acupuncture and other forms of complementary medicine. If patients wanted to receive this kind of non-conventional treatment, they used to have to consult a private practitioner who was likely not to have a medical degree. However, in recent years, the perception of this type of treatment has changed. These days, many family doctors study complementary medicine alongside conventional treatments, and many complementary medicine consultants also have medical degrees.

Critics used to say that there was no scientific evidence that non-conventional treatments actually worked, now it is more common for medical experts to recognise that conventional medicine may not always be the only way to treat an ailment.

Complementary medicine cannot be used for all medical treatments. It can never substitute for immunisations as it will not produce the antibodies needed to protect against childhood diseases. It also cannot be used to protect against malaria.

A doctor said, "I will always turn to conventional medical treatment first to ensure that no underlying condition is missed. However, the idea of complementary treatments is no longer an alien concept. In my opinion, it should work alongside modern medicine, and not against it."

- 1. There are two pieces of evidence which show that people's perception of complementary medicine has changed over time. Write these pieces of evidence down. (6 points)
- 2. In your answer booklet, write down two forms of non-conventional treatments. (6 points)

QUESTION THREE: (33 points)

(A) Read the following article carefully and then in your ANSWER BOOKLET answer all the questions that follow. Your answer should be based on the article.

My name is Fatima Musa and I have worked as an interpreter for five years. Many students have emailed me about my work because they want to know what it would be like to do my job. So here is my reply. I have always been fond of languages. My father worked in many different countries when I was young and we usually travelled with him. When we visited a country, I always wanted to learn the language. At school I was very good at English. Therefore, I decided on a career as an interpreter. My job now involves going to important conferences and seminars around the world. When a person speaks in English at a conference, I listen to what they say through headphones. I then translate into Arabic while the speaker is talking. I give the translation through headphones to other people at the meeting. This means that anyone in the room who speaks Arabic can understand what people are saying.

Is it an easy job? Not at all. English is not the same in all English-speaking countries. For example, the English words that are used in India are sometimes different to the words that people use in the UK, the USA or Australia. As well as knowing regional English, you also need to know a lot of specialist language. Some of the words that are used to talk about business, science or law, for example, make it almost a different language!

- 1. The text discusses a job experience of a person, Who is this person? (5 points)
- 2. What does the underlined pronoun refer to? (4 points)
- 3. Based on the text, what tool does interpreters use to hear what they need to translate? (5 points)
- 4. Write the two sentences which Fatima used as a response when she was asked about her job easiness. (6 points)
- 5. Do you think you have the necessary qualifications to be an interpreter? Would you like to be an interpreter? Why/Why not? (7 points)
